

2008 The "Business of Brownfields Conference"
NBA-Sponsored BUS TOUR
April 16, 2008
Bus Departs at 3:00 PM from Westin Convention Center Hotel

The South Side's eclectic bars, restaurants, boutiques, cafes and bookstores beckon throngs of young and old alike, who fill the sidewalks in the evenings with energy. In the past decade, the historic neighborhood has enjoyed a meteoric rise in real estate values—uncharacteristic for the city. Just a few miles away, across the Monongahela River, in the neighborhood of Squirrel Hill, a former slag heap is in its second phase of development. Upscale homes, a swimming pool, hotel and recreation center are sprouting upon a moon-scaped mountain. Join the developers and city officials as we look at the infrastructure, remediation process, land use, scale, amenities, community engagement, financing, and the respective roles of the public and private sectors for each site. Presenters include: Damian Soffer (Soffer Organization), Jerry Dettore (Michael Baker Corporation), John Coyne (Urban Redevelopment Authority of Pittsburgh), Tom Murphy (Urban Land Institute)
